AFFIDAVIT

The undersigned, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

I, CURTIS L. DENNIS, am employed by the Army Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) at Maxwell Air Force Base as a store detective. On or about 14 February 2007, via closed circuit monitors, I observed SHILUNDA HENDERSON selecting a Phat Farm men's cologne. She removed the Electronic Activation System (EAS) Tag and concealed the cologne in her battle dress uniform (BDU) pocket. She later took a Prada perfume and also concealed it in her pocket. When she went to the checkout counter she paid for the other items and then started to depart from the store. She was detained in the lobby by Edward McIntyre, Loss Prevention Manager. Ms. Henderson stated that she needed to use the bathroom. Mr. McIntyre asked the cashier supervisor, Barbara Knight, to go in the bathroom with Ms. Henderson. After Ms. Henderson came out of the bathroom, Ms. Knight asked me to come into the bathroom with her and she pointed out where the merchandise was. I, Curtis Dennis, opened the personal item they had - - a sanitary napkin holder - - and found the Phat Farm cologne and Prada perfume in the tray. I removed the two items and returned them to the Loss Preventive office.
